A black t-shirt with a graphic design. At the top, the text "CITY OF THE LIVING DEAD" is printed in large, bold, red letters. Below this, there is a graphic of a tombstone with a cross. The tombstone is inscribed with "CHARLES HAMM", "1809-1847", and "RIP". Below the tombstone, there are two zombie heads with wide, staring eyes and open mouths. Below the zombie heads, the text "FROM THE BOWELS OF THE EARTH THEY CAME..." is printed in white, followed by "TO COLLECT THE LIVING!" in a smaller font. At the bottom of the t-shirt, there is a large circular QR code.

Chris SIX SIX

Hey Supergooka fans, thanks for grabbing this catalogue. A lot of late nights went into putting it together because, well, I love this shit. Over here, it's halloween 365 days a year. Some people have asked where the name Supergooka came from. To be honest, I combined old Bazooka Joe bubble gum, cuz I love everything retro, and added the word super to it because I thought it sounded cool. I know, not much of a story but a whole bunch of truth. As for the future of Supergooka, who knows. I have so many plans and ideas... which do I choose? Only the future knows. In the meantime, I'll keep trying to do my best to offer you the world's smallest and most terrifying horror store on the planet!
